

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS!

WIN $10,000

THE BETTER HOUR CONTEST

In commemoration of this 200th anniversary of the 1807 abolition of the Trans-Atlantic slave trade.

Inspired by the vision and character of leading activist William Wilberforce and his crusade to end slavery and transform culture.
 Craft a project that will make your world a better place. Enlist others to help, execute your plan, and document it online.

Prizes: A total of $40,000 in cash prize money, which includes the $10,000 first place prize, provided by the John Templeton Foundation.

Register NOW to get the contest information kit and guidelines at www.thebetterhour.com

Final Project deadline: March 1, 2008 Awards presented in U.S. Congress in May, 2008

At www.thebetterhour.com watch the trailer for the documentary film, coming in fall 2007 to national television, The Better Hour: The Legacy of William Wilberforce

www.thebetterhour.com/contest

Why? In commemoration of this 200th anniversary of the 1807 abolition of the Trans- Atlantic slave trade. Inspired by the vision and character of leading activist, William Wilberforce, and his crusade to end slavery and transform culture.

What To Do: Craft a project that will make your world a better place. Enlist others to help, execute your plan, and document it online.

Prizes: A total of $40,000 in cash prize money, which includes the $10,000 first place prize, provided by the John Templeton Foundation.

Register NOW to get the contest information kit and guidelines at www.thebetterhour.com Final Project deadline: March 1, 2008. Awards presented in Congress in May, 2008 At www.thebetterhour.com watch the trailer for the documentary film, coming in fall 2007 to national television, The Better Hour: The Legacy of William Wilberforce.

Project areas should reflect the issues and concerns of the 69 societies founded or assisted by William Wilberforce (listed at www.thebetterhour.com) Sponsored by The Wilberforce Project, with cash prizes from the John Templeton Foundation. In addition to an overall first prize winner, there will be prizes for projects in the following categories, and possibly a runner up for 2nd and 3rd place prizes.

Project areas include: Modern day forms of slavery, poverty, political or legislative action, education, and/or health

Project presentations will be submitted entirely online in written form, with photographs allowed, but comprising no more than five pages, with a 2000 word limit, and converted to PDF. No Power Point submissions are allowed. Although not required for the first prize winner or any submission, there will be a bonus category for video/film addendum materials, with a 3-minute limit in Windows Media File. But all video/film entries must also submit the required written PDF document.

Register at www.thebetterhour.com/contest to get full downloadable guidelines and contest rules as soon as they are available. Students are encouraged to register as soon as possible in order to have time to plan and organize with a final project deadline of March 1, 2008.

www.TheBetterHour.com